

This is an extremely important issue. Media is one of the main educational tools available to the public. The potential exists for our newssources to become mere propoganda tools if a genuine diversity of views is not safeguarded and vested interested minimized. I urge you to open this issue to a genuine public debate and to fully take the public's views into account.--Afterall, the media is supposed to serve the public!